Template for why:

Nighttime road safety is an important issue in many communities, especially in areas like San Vicente, Butuan City, where several roads have limited lighting, few establishments, and long stretches with little traffic. Our group realized that many students, workers, and residents walk or ride home after dark, making them more vulnerable to road accidents, poor visibility, and even criminal activity.

We chose this topic because:

- Many nighttime accidents happen due to poor lighting and fast vehicles.
- Pedestrians, especially students, are often not visible to drivers at night.
- Some parts of our barangay become quiet and isolated after sunset, increasing the risk of snatching or harassment.
- Most safety reminders focus on daytime travel, but nighttime dangers are less discussed.
- We wanted to create a simple, easy-to-understand website that can remind our community how to stay safe while walking or driving at night.

By raising awareness, we hope to help reduce accidents and encourage people to be more careful and better prepared whenever they travel after dark.

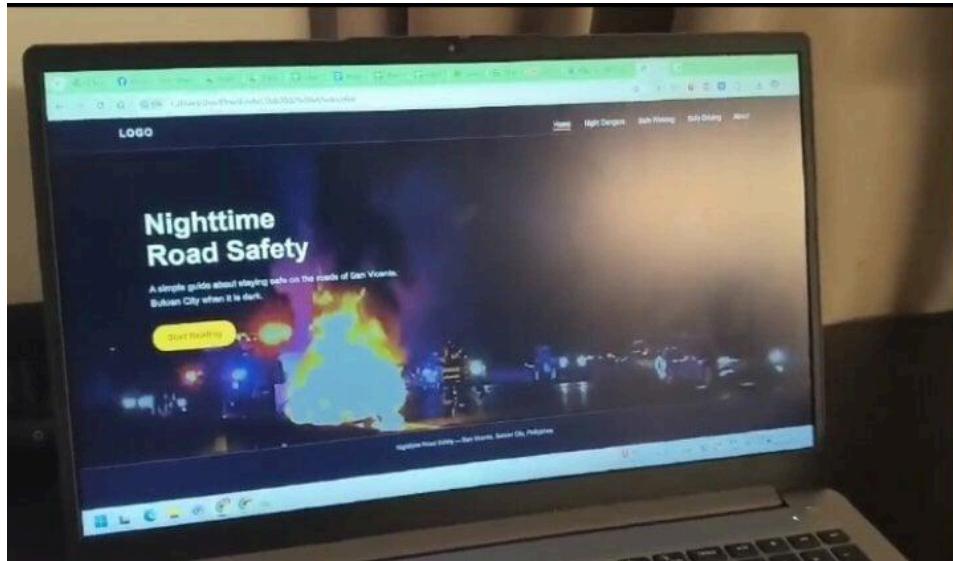

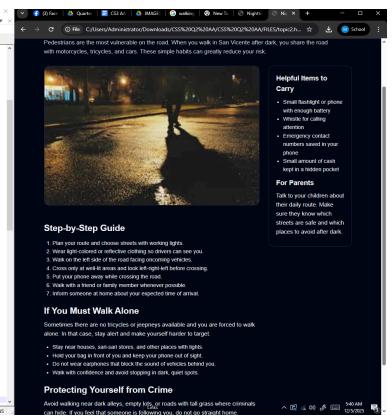

Contributions of each member:

Kush Shekar: Build and coded the website into reality. Turn our ideas into research into what you're seeing.

Mathew Justine: Researched information regarding road safety in the community. Wrote the informative texts.

Angel Villacencio: Core designer of the group. Created wireframes and kept progress flowing smoothly while adjusting the details.
